

Discussion Questions:

1. In prison, what activity first enabled Dewey Bozella to adopt a more constructive outlook toward his life?

2. In addition to boxing, how else did Bozella seek to improve himself?

3. Let's discuss the virtues Bozella lived out in prison. In what ways did these enable him to rise above his challenges?

4. How did Bozella live out the virtue of integrity? What was the cost to Bozella of living with integrity, and would we be willing to accept the same costs?

In what specific situations is it sometimes challenging to live with integrity among our friends and within our general community? In those situations, what are the costs and rewards of living up to our principles?

5. In what ways did Bozella live out the virtue of forgiveness? What reason did Bozella give for forgiving those who hurt him?